French Gain Ground In Counter Attacks On Germans On the Verdun Front

PETROGRAD, Aug. 30.—Russian forces have captured more Austrian positions in the Carpathians, west of Nadvorna, and are now only 17 miles from the Hungarian border, the war office announced today. The official statement follows:

"On the Upper Serech we repulsed the enemy. We also repelled an attack on the Bystryca. In the Carpathians, west of Nadvorna, we captured the village of Rafallon on the Bystryca and Panker mountain, near the Hungarian border. Our troops are now only 17 miles from the Hungarian frontier."

"Caucasus front.—In the region of Orzoto, we captured seven Turkish officers, 333 men and two machine guns. South of Lake Nimrodshel we pushed back the Turks to the heights of Bitlis. Near Mosul the Turks are dispersed, leaving arms, ammunition and prisoners in our hands."

PARIS, Aug. 30.—Fresh attempts by the Bulgarians to dislodge the allies from positions on their left flank in Greek Macedonia have been repulsed, the French war office announced today.

A strong Bulgarian attack was made in the sector of Lake Ostrovo, but it broke down under the fire of the allies' guns.

The fighting in the Lake Ostrovo district has centered around the railroad which passes through Florina and Vodena to Saloniki. Heavy forces are at grips in that district and there have been bloody hand-to-hand combats in which heavy losses were incurred.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—After frustrating German attempts to recapture Fleury on the Verdun front, the French delivered counter attacks in that sector last night which gained for them some new ground.

The French progress at Fleury was announced in the official communiqué of the French war office.

The attack was delivered under difficulties for there have been severe storms on the Verdun front, accompanied by fog, which hampered artillery activity.

The communiqué states that the bombardments have continued.

SALONIKI, Aug. 30.—On the 20-mile front from the port of Kavala to the railway center of Drama, Bulgarian troops have occupied all the Greek forts, according to an official statement issued at the allies' headquarters today. This indicates a steady advance by the Bulgars on the Anglo-French right wing, but on the left the Serbians, the statement says, continue to progress on the Vetrnik front.

On the road from Banitsa to Ostrovo, the Bulgarians made three night attacks, but all were repulsed.

RUMANIANS IN HUNGARY

Reported Sweeping Down Upon an Important Railway Junction.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—It is persistently reported that the Rumanians have captured Rothenthurm Pass and that Rumanian cavalry is sweeping upon the Hungarian city of Hermannstadt, says a Central News despatch from Zurich today.

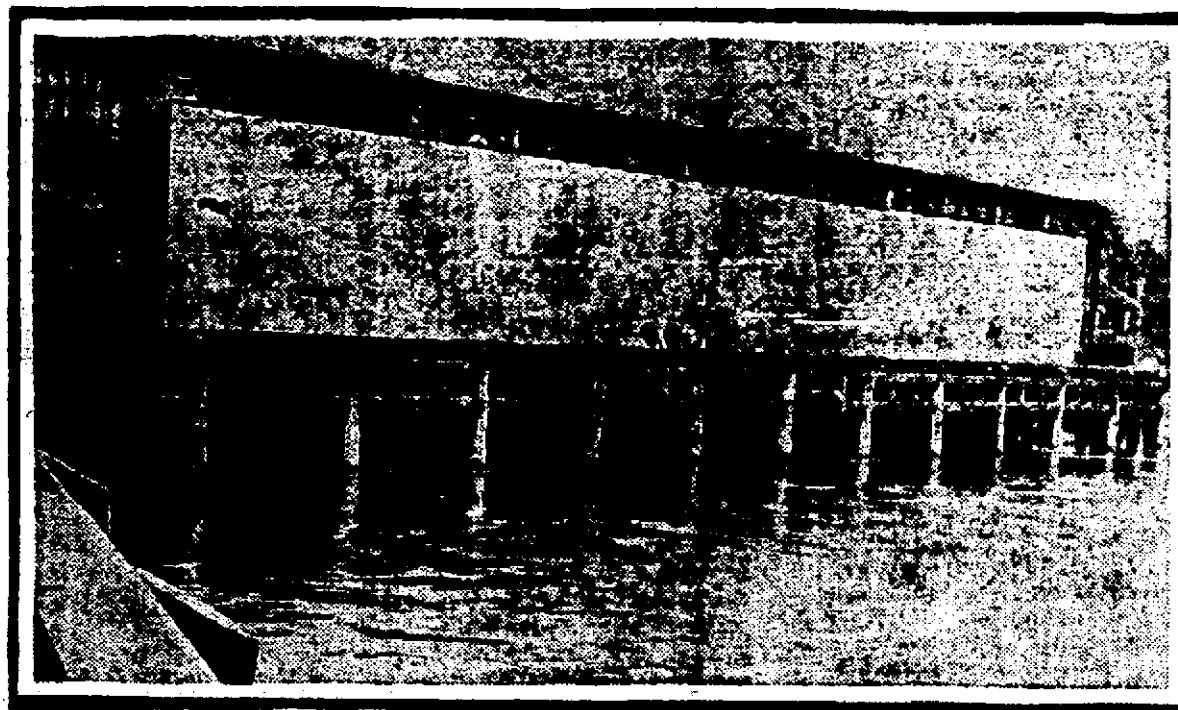

Rothenthurm Pass was one of the three positions on the Hungarian frontier attacked by the Rumanians immediately after the Rumanian declaration of war against Austria-Hungary.

(Hermannstadt is 16 miles inside the Hungarian border and is an important railway junction).

With the Austrian war office admitting a reverse in the first gust of fighting on the Hungaro-Rumanian frontier, Germany has set her powerful military machinery to work to save Hungary from invasion.

Two of the most brilliant officers in the German army have been delegated to the task. They are Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, who has just succeeded General Von Falkenhayn as chief of the German general

Sheds Erected at New London, Conn., for the Bremen

While no announcement has been made of the American port to be sought by the German merchant submarine Bremen, said to be on her way to the United States with a valuable cargo such as the Deutschland brought, it is now firmly believed she will dock at New London, Conn. The evidence consists of the fact that sheds have been erected there for her protection.

This photograph shows where she will die. The German liner Willebad, which reached New London from Boston the other day, will remain alongside the wharf to protect the submarine.

WOMAN ATTACKED IN HER HOME BY NEGRO IS IN DYING CONDITION; IS ABLE TO IDENTIFY ASSAILANT

As a result of an attempted criminal assault by a colored man about 7 o'clock this morning, Mrs. John Baber, who resides on the Spencerville road, two miles southwest of the city, lies in a critical condition at the City hospital. Her alleged assailant, Charles Daniels, 35, colored, is being held at the county jail, pending an investigation of the affair. The victim, although very weak, was able to identify the colored man as the one who made the attack.

There was only one witness to the struggle in the little room of the peaceful farm house. This was Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly, 70 years of age, who resides in part of the house. Owing to the nervous condition of the aged woman, she was unable to identify the colored man as the one who attacked Mrs. Baber.

Mrs. Kelly stated that she was awakened by sounds of the struggle in the adjoining room shortly after Mrs. Baber's husband had departed for work. On investigating she discovered the ruffian choking the woman with one hand and wielding a razor with the other.

Seeing blood on the floor and the cuts on Mrs. Baber's face, Mrs. Kelly tried to drive the brute away from his victim with a broom. On failing to do this, she called in the dog and ran to the nearest farm house, a quarter of a mile away, for aid.

Elmer Chaney and Melvin Dixon who were working on the farm, were called, and arming themselves with shotguns, they returned to the scene of the crime, accompanied by Mrs. Kelly.

When they arrived at the home, only a few minutes later, the assailant had fled, leaving no clue behind him. The woman was found lying in an unconscious condition on the floor in a pool of blood. The furniture in the room was overturned, showing that she had made a terrific struggle before finally overpowered.

Dr. Steer was called to the Baber home and arrived a short time after the affair, and administered first aid to the victim. However, her condition was such that he ordered her taken to the City hospital. She was removed there in the Whitley ambulance.

A hastily organized posse of farmers from the surrounding countryside was whirled into shape under the leadership of Dixon and Chaney, and proceeded to comb the farms along the Erie railroad. All were armed with shotguns and rifles.

Sheriff Eley and members of the police department arrived on the scene of the crime a short time later and a systematic search was conducted for the brutal negro. Corn fields, orchards, barns and swamps were carefully inspected.

Two hours after the time the crime was committed Sheriff Eley arrested the colored man on the Erie railroad near the Spencerville overhead.

A short time previous to the arrest Chaney, while searching along the railroad tracks, saw a suspiciously acting man running down the track. When he stopped and looked

U. S. Cruiser Wrecked By Storm; Several Men Are Dead Or Missing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The wreck of the armored cruiser Memphis was total, according to word received from Rear Admiral Pond by the navy department today. The storm came absolutely without warning, he reports, and it is not yet known just how many are dead.

There are a number—Admiral Pond this morning places the figure at several—missing and supposed to be drowned.

Two of the officers of the cruiser were injured but will recover. True to the traditions of the service, Captain Beach, commander, was the last man to leave the vessel.

The text of the report received from Admiral Pond as made public by the navy department today was as follows:

"All hands off the Memphis. Captain Beach was the last to leave. When the storm struck steam was up and the main engines were working but main steam line burst. Cause unknown. Those near too seriously injured to be questioned. Two officers injured. Will recover. One enlisted man killed; five very seriously injured; five seriously injured; sixty-seven slightly injured; casualties mostly in engineers' force. Several men missing, probably drowned. Complete muster and report expected this morning. No other casualties among officers."

"Tug Potomac which left Santo Domingo City for Port-au-Prince at 1:30 yesterday (Tuesday) is thought to be safe, although no word from her."

"Castigo at sea with all boats but one last and steering gear disabled but ship is under control. Sea was perfectly smooth until after 3 p. m. Vessel hit rocks at 4:30."

SANTO DOMINGO, Aug. 30.—All officers and sailors on board the United States armored cruiser Memphis when it was driven ashore near the Santo Domingo light house late yesterday, numbering more than 900 have been rescued, it was announced today. The cruiser itself will be a total loss. Bodies of several members of the crew were returning from shore in a launch when a sudden tidal wave threw the cruiser upon the rocks and upset the small boat was washed ashore early today.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Rear Admiral Pond at Santo Domingo today reported to the navy department that Chief Gunner's Mate G. W. Rudd was killed in the Memphis disaster yesterday and that several others were drowned. The names of the latter were not given. Lieutenant Claude A. Jones, of Charleston, W. Va., was seriously burned but is expected to recover.

U. P. RAILWAY GETS INJUNCTION ISSUED IN LABOR TROUBLE

Senate Committee Finds Republican Opposition to Proposed Legislation

STRIKE DELAY POSSIBLE

Tentative Draft of Bill Proposed By Wilson Is Submitted By Senator Newlands

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 30.—An order restraining the local and national officials of the Order of Railway Conductors from ordering a strike on the Union Pacific lines, was issued today by Judge Sears in the district court of Douglas county.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—With the eyes of the nation fixed on congress watching for action to avert the threatened railroad strike, the senate interstate commerce committee at 10 o'clock today began drafting the legislation urged by President Wilson yesterday in his address before the joint session of the house and senate. The committee faced the prospect of bitter progressive republican opposition. There was no chance of completing the program before the strike order goes into effect on September 4th, leaders admitted.

Senator Kern, the majority leader, thought it would be possible to dispose of the entire program and adjourn within two or three weeks. He made this statement after a conference with Senator Smoot, one of the republican leaders.

Progressive republican senators promptly bristled up and said: "Smoot is not running things," and promised spirited fights over various features of the program.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—While congress labored over preventive strike legislation today, Judge W. L. Chambers, as representative of President Wilson took active charge of the efforts to force the brotherhood chiefs to defer action. He said he was hopeful that he would secure a postponement of the threatened tie-up.

He declared, following a conference with the union leaders, that he "felt confident" that the strike would not come off next Monday as per schedule. But he admitted that to secure postponement some action by congress probably would be necessary.

The action that must come, in the opinion of the mediation chief, is passage immediately of assurances that it will be passed, of the eight-hour law and the law creating a commission to investigate the methods of making it effective. If this is done then, Judge Chambers believes, the brotherhoods will abandon their proposed strike.

The four heads of the railroad brotherhoods conferred with officials in the department of labor. Chief Garretson, when told that reports were in circulation at various points that they had agreed to postpone the date for the commencement of the strike 30 days, somewhat angrily replied:

"We have not been officially asked to postpone it. The strike order stands."

Senator Newlands, chairman, laid before the senate committee a tentative draft of the legislation urged by the president. The committee decided, however, it wanted to hear the views of the interested parties before taking any definite action. Nine hours will be required for the hearings.

Following this morning's meeting of the interstate commerce committee Chairman Newlands gave out the tentative draft of the legislation proposed by the president.

"If at any time any railway engaged in interstate commerce or in the transportation of mails shall cease to operate or be seriously hindered in its operation because of a strike of its employees, the president shall have power to direct the operation of such railway whenever in his judgment essential for military purposes, and to that end he may employ such part of the military forces or such civil agents or draft into service of the United States such persons as may be necessary."

The eight-hour work day measure provides "eight hours shall be deemed the measure or standard for service of trainmen actually engaged in interstate transportation." The same bill provides also for appointment by the president of a commission of three to be known as "The wage commission," two of whom are to be persons respectively recommended by the railroads and their employees.

"The commission shall observe the administrative and financial effects of the institution of the eight-hour standard workday as above defined," the measure provides.

The bill provides:

"The president shall transmit the report of the wage commission to the interstate commerce commission and upon these findings and such other facts as it may consider germane the interstate commerce commission shall reach a decision as to what extent, if any, the change in the standard workday necessitates an increase in freight rates or the railway's affected in order to conserve their efficiency and secure a fair return on the capital invested."

"Pending the report of the wage commission and the decision of the interstate commerce commission, the compensation of railway employees subject to this act for a standard eight-hour day shall not be reduced below the present standard day's wage."

RAILWAYS WARN PUBLIC.

Advice Against Long Trips; Embargo On Perishable Freight;

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Western and mid-western railways practically all of which enter Chicago began active preparations today for a general strike. Passengers contemplating long journeys were warned that if they could not reach their destination before Saturday night they might be subjected "to perplexing delays."

The Santa Fe road, which, according to reports, has been engaging strikebreakers for some time, was the first to place an embargo on perishable freight. Other roads set Saturday night as the time limit that they could guarantee to deliver freight. These included the Northern Pacific, Burlington, Rock Island, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, St. Louis and San Francisco and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas. Similar action was expected from the others during the day unless there is a marked change in the situation.

"The railroads are taking these precautions as temporary means of getting ready," said Vice President C. C. Burnham of the Burlington. "When officials get their bearings and can estimate the number of men available for service we will try to keep trains running as nearly on schedule time as possible. We cannot, however, guarantee nothing at this time."

Chicago's great packing industries will be cruelly hit in the event of a strike. Not more than three days' supply of livestock can be kept at any of the yards. At the end of that period it will be necessary to close down, throwing many thousands out of work. There is plenty of meat in cold storage.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—With the large railroads declaring an embargo on freight and warning passengers that they may be subjected to delays if they cannot reach their destinations by Sunday night, September 3, the corporations are rapidly completing their preparation for the national strike which the brotherhoods have ordered to begin on Labor day.

Several of the railroad presidents who have been conferring with President Wilson at Washington returned to New York today. The word they brought back was pessimistic and the executive offices of all the railroads immediately became hives of activity.

For several weeks agents of the railroads have been scouring the country, hiring strikebreakers and guards for all lines. They have reported considerable success, but the railway executives admitted today that they could be unable to secure enough men to keep trains running on their regular schedule.

Officials of this city, recognizing that a strike is imminent, are taking steps to insure a food supply for 5,000,000 persons if the railway employees go out. Police Commissioner Woods has found from a superficial survey that the food on hand will last only a week.

The first effort of the authorities is to make plans that will prevent the milk supply being cut off. On July 1 there were in New York City 5,491 children less than five years of age. All these would be affected by a strike that prevented milk shipments.

The milk companies are organizing to meet the situation. According to the plans thus far perfected, babies will be served first and the sick next. Milk drivers on all routes are listing those absolutely dependable upon milk for their food.

A available milk will be brought into the city by motor trucks, the district of collecting being extended into the country as far as possible.

$160,000,000 SUIT FILED AGAINST OLD NEW HAVEN HEADS

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A liability and restitution suit for more than $160,000,000 against the former officers, directors and counsel of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railway company was begun in the United States district court today by Henry A. Wise of the firm of Bigelow and Wise, as counsel for five Massachusetts stockholders. The suit is based on evidence taken at the recent Sherman law criminal prosecution and in the dissolution suit and at hearings before the various state industrial and railroad commissions. The plaintiffs are Edwin Adams, James C. More, George C. Fiske, James F. Ray, James and Marion Clark.

The railway holds $125,000,000 of New Haven stock. Among the defendants are William Rockefeller, Charles H. Pratt, Lewis Cass Ledyard, George Macculloch Miller, James S. Hemingway, A. Heaton Robertson, Frederick F. Brewster, Charles F. Brooks, James S. Skelton, Henry K. McHarg, Edward D. Robbins, John L. Byland, Robert W. Taft and Charles S. Melien. J. P. Morgan, Herbert L. Satterlee, William P. Hamilton and Lewis Cass Ledyard are named defendants as executors under the will of the late J. P. Morgan. F. V. Twombly is named a defendant as executor under the will of Hamilton McK. Twombly. The railroad company also is made a defendant.

PRICES BEGIN TO SOAR.

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 30.—Consumers began to feel the effects of the impending rail strike this morning. Potatoes leaped 25 cents on the barrel to $4. Produce dealers say stocks will not last over four days if shipments are shut off. Packers also fear a close down of their plants as stocks of meats are small, owing to big demand made for smoked products during the long hot spell.

Produce shippers were warned by railroads this morning not to attempt any shipments of perishable stuff due to arrive later than Saturday night, September 2. They are asked not to expect shipments after that date.

SECOND REGIMENT TO LEAVE MONDAY

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 30.—Central Ohio gave a rousing send-off to its regiment of infantry—the fourth, under Colonel Byron L. Bargar of Columbus—as it entrained at the Hocking Valley yards for the border today, accompanied by the staff of the second brigade, with Brigadier General John C. Speaks in command.

Friday the squadron of cavalry under Major Dudley J. Hard of Cleveland, the second ambulance company and the second field hospital corps will entrain, and Saturday the artillery, under Major Harold M. Bush of Columbus, will unlimber its heavy guns and move south.

The first brigade of infantry begins moving Monday, when the second regiment, under Colonel J. Guy Deming of Ada, entrains. Tuesday the sixth regiment, under Colonel L. W. Howard of Toledo, goes, accompanied by the brigade commander General W. V. McMaken and his staff. The third regiment under Colonel R. L. Hubler of Dayton, follows Wednesday.

DAY NURSERY TOTS HAVE PARK OUTING

All the children of the Day Nursery were taken out to the city park today by members of the board for a picnic. All the good things that the kiddies like will be given them to eat and all the games they love to play will be in full swing this afternoon.

Last year the board took care of 4,779 children, and according to appearances, there will be a larger number this coming year. They are, however, in need of pillow cases, sheets, counterpane for children's beds. Any person who has such to contribute will please call or send same to the nursery which is located on the northwest corner of High and Elizabeth.

Counsellor claims he was attacked by the two. They pleaded not guilty and requested to be bound over to the grand jury. Mary Marshall's bond was set at $300 and Sargard's at $500. Frank Seiler went on their bonds.

WILSON.

"In the bloodiest crucible of all history he has kept the stalling banner of the republic flying above 100,000,000 people in peace and in honor. During these years of great trial, of difficulties, and complications crowding upon each other like waves of an angry sea, with enemies powerful from without and within, with abuse cruel as was cowardly, he emerges as majestic and powerful as a mountain after a storm, loved by all who believe in justice, and feared by those who temporize with wrong."

NO TRACE OF FAY BOMB PLOTTER IS FOUND AT ATLANTA

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 30.—Every South Atlantic and Gulf port was today being closely watched to prevent the escape from this country of Lieutenant Robert Fay, German bomb plotter, who made an easy getaway from the federal penitentiary here late yesterday. No trace of Fay or William Knoblock, of Baltimore, who escaped with him, has been found. It is believed the men separated soon after leaving the prison and that Fay will try to make his way back to Germany.

J. W. Pounce, the guard who let Fay and Knoblock through the outer gate of their prison on their story that they had been sent to repair electric lights has been discharged. He had been employed at the prison but a short time. Warden Zorbat, himself a German who speaks English with a strong German accent, scouted the idea of outside help for the prisoners.

"It was simply bad judgment on the part of Pounce," declared the warden. "He should not have let the prisoners out of the gate. I have offered $100 reward for the prisoners and hope they will be recaptured."

Fay was well liked by officials and fellow prisoners because of his gentlemanly behavior.

JEALOUSY AMONG AIRMEN FEATURE OF U.S. ARMY LIFE

HEADQUARTERS, American Punitive Expedition, Mexico, via aeroplane to Columbus, Aug. 30.—There is a rather matured story told to illustrate the pride a man may take in his work and how apt he is to be extremely jealous of that work. It relates how two street sweepers were discussing the merits of a deceased member of their craft.

"Jake was a mighty handy man with the brush," declared the first sweeper in an effort at praise.

"Yes," said the other slowly, "he was that. But now that he's gone, Hank, don't you think he was just a little weak around the lamp posts?"

There should be asterisks or something here because the scene shifts suddenly to "somewhere in Mexico" and those who follow this narration find themselves on the aviation field at the edge of headquarters camp, the day a relief aeroplane is expected to arrive. Her starting point is a military secret but it is sufficient to say that she would complete a journey of 150 miles by the time she glided to the ground at this camp.

Finally far over the mountain range the machine was sighted. The aviator was having a rough time of it, caught in the swirls and eddies that suck up out of the rough mountain country. Then the machine fought clear and hovered over the field, apparently seeking a place to alight. Finally the machine made a sudden swoop, struck the roughest part of the field, bumped badly, skidded and tipped but finally righted itself and roled to a standstill.

The aviators assigned to headquarters strolled leisurely out to greet the newcomer. They reached the machine as he and the observer were climbing stiffly from their seats and unbuttoning leather jackets. One felt that it was a moment in which these casual young tempters of destruction might relax a bit. In France, one imagined, there might be an embrace, at least. Probably a slight peck on the cheek.

Jake had really shown that he was a mighty handy man with the brush. But did they relax? Here is what happened:

"Hello," said the headquarters aviator.

"Howdy," replied the visiting pilot.

There followed a keen survey of the visiting machine.

"Bum rudder-wheel," said the headquarters aviator.

The visitor said nothing but peeled off his jacket and picked up the mail bag.

"How long did it take you to make the trip?" asked the headquarters flier.

"Exactly an hour and a half," stated the visitor, somewhat proudly.

"We did it in an hour and twenty-eight minutes," returned the headquarters man.

"Of course we lost a lot of time in that storm," said the visitor.

"But you had a stiff wind behind you," retorted headquarters. "How much weight did you carry?"

"About 3,400 pounds."

"We carried 3,700 and a lot of extra equipment."

Another sour inspection of the visiting plane, accompanied by uplifted eyebrows on the part of the second headquarters man who finally asked:

"How is that new patent adjuster working?"

"Great," responded the visitor, encouraged.

"We got along fine without it," said headquarters.

The visitor surveyed the headquarters men a moment quizzically.

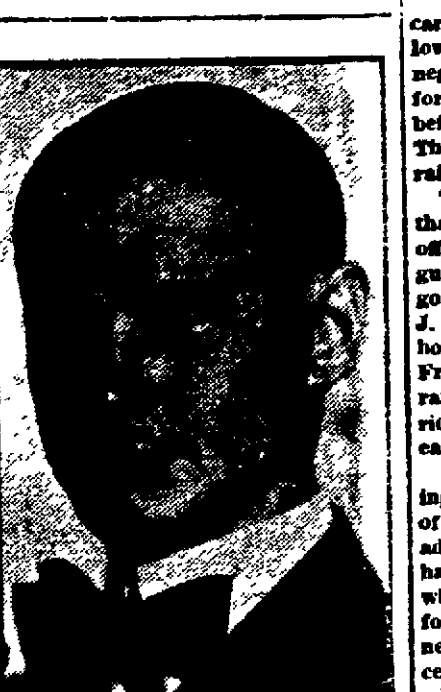

"Anyway," he said, "Both of us got here and brought the machine."

"Yes," said the first headquarters man. "But you had a messy time of it over Sugar Lump Pass."

Jake might have been a little weak around the lamp posts.

GLENN DAVIS NEW PHYSICAL DIRECTOR Y.M.C.A. IS HERE

Glenn H. Davis, the new physical director of the local Y. M. C. A., will arrive in the city tomorrow evening to be in readiness to take up his work on September 1st. Mr. Davis comes here with nine years of experience with the Association at

GLENN H. DAVIS.

Mansfield, Ohio, and with a record of most excellent service with all classes of men and boys. He was very popular with the business men, high school boys and grammar school boys as the large classes he was able to work up very eloquently testify. While it is a matter of regret to the people of Mansfield that he is leaving, yet what is Mansfield's loss is Lima's gain.

Mr. Davis, together with his estimable wife, were very active in many circles in Mansfield and especially in the First M. E. church, where for several years Mr. Davis will be at the Y. M. C. A. building here Friday and will be happy to meet all the members of the Association at the earliest possible moment. Lima will find Mr. Davis a jovial, good natured and whole-souled fellow whom it is good to know and it is predicted that he will be of large service to the local Association.

MRS. MARIA HATFIELD DIES FROM INJURIES

Mrs. Maria Hatfield, 75, mother of Harry Hatfield, 501 South West street, died at the city hospital last night at 9 o'clock. She had been visiting her grand-daughter, Mrs. Clarence Judkins, at Delphos, when she met with an accident. Mrs. Hatfield fell from the porch and broke her hip. The Williams and Davis ambulance was called and removed her from Delphos to the Lima hospital, where she died last night. The body was removed to the home of her son.

Woman Attacked By Negro, Is In Dying Condition

back several times, Cheney was confident that this was the man wanted. Search in this direction led to the discovery that a colored man had asked to ride on a speeder on the Erie road. Bert Harlow, master carpenter, who was operating the car, answered in the negative. Harlow informed the officials that the negro had gone west after asking for a ride. His destination was east before he crossed the railroad map. The latter was going west on the railroad.

The numerous different directions that he admits having taken, lead officials to believe that he is the guilty party. He admitted having gone through the corn field on the house there and asked for a drink. From there he went west along the railroad track, and asked for the ride and then retraced his steps back east.

His clothes bore evidence of having been hiding in brush and weeds of the swamp along the creek which adjoins the railroad. A spot on his hat which appeared to be blood, but which he claimed to be paint, was found. One of his arms was skinned. It is believed that this was received in the struggle on the floor with Mrs. Baber.

When captured, the negro was immediately taken to the Baber home in Sheriff Eley's automobile in hope that the aged woman who resides there, and was the only witness to the struggle, could identify him.

However, when she was unable to inform officials whether he was the assailant, he was taken to the City hospital. Here he was positively identified by the victim as the one who had committed the attack. She showed the officials a fresh tear in the waist worn by the negro, which she claimed was made during the struggle.

Daniels stoutly denies that he is the negro that perpetrated the attack on Mrs. Baber. He claims that his home is in Unica, Mississippi, and that he just recently came to Lima from Buffalo, New York.

The negro informed officials that he slept with a workman on the Erie railroad last night, and that he intended leaving the city today. A search for the man he claims to have been with last night will be conducted.

Police officials are of the opinion that the negro slept in the barn last night on the Baber farm. It is the supposition that on seeing Mrs. Baber's husband depart for work this morning, that he decided to make the attack.

Physicians in charge of the Baber case at the City hospital, give little hope for the recovery of the victim, owing to the delicate condition that she was in previous to the attack. During the struggle she obtained numerous bruises, in addition to a broken jaw and numerous cuts about the face.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, John Baber, husband of the woman attacked, brought evidence of the crime to the office of Sheriff Eley. It consisted of a bloody two-by-four plank about two feet long and the broom used by Mrs. Kelly to strike the negro.

Trained blood hounds from St. Marys are expected to arrive any minute. They will be used in an attempt to ascertain whether the colored man held at the county jail is Mrs. Baber's assailant. They will also be taken to the scene of the crime.

A want ad in the Times-Democrat will bring quick results.

MRS. O'CONNOR IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Mrs. Emma O'Connor, 53, wife of William J. O'Connor, bookkeeper for the Lima Brewing Company, died suddenly last night in her home, 701 North Main street. She was alone in the house until her husband returned about 10 o'clock and found her dead.

Dr. J. J. Murphy was called, and said she had been dead for several hours, but could assign no cause. Up until a late hour this afternoon the cause of Mrs. O'Connor's death was not known.

Mrs. O'Connor had been in the best of health and there is something mysterious about her death. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, William H. O'Connor, of Kansas City, and M. J. O'Connor, of Dayton.

A marriage license was issued this morning to Wayne B. Guy, 23, of Lafayette, and Miss Mabel Busick, 31, school teacher, of Lima.

School Opening

Principals of all schools will meet at the office of the superintendent of schools Saturday morning, September 2 at 9 o'clock, to complete plans for the opening of the schools next Tuesday, September 5, at 8:30 o'clock. All teachers are requested to report at the general meeting at the high school Monday morning at 9 o'clock when the assignments will be made.

All book and supply dealers of the city can get printed book and supply lists at the superintendent's office Friday morning. All dealers will have printed slips for all children showing books and materials to be used and their cost. These may be secured Friday or Saturday.

CAN A RAILWAY QUIT?

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 30.—Has a railroad a right to abandon all of its property and sell it as junk? This question is raised in a complaint filed today with the state police commission. Residents and business men near Bowling Green want the railroad to be sold to the state. The complaint is signed by the Bowling Green & Napoleon Railway company, to continue operating its lines between Port Clinton and Bowling Green. It is charged the owners of the line intend to tear up their tracks and poles and sell them as junk for $100,000. BLUE VET LINE IS THINNER THAN EVER

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 29.—Fifty thousand blue clad veterans of the Civil War marched here today in the annual grand march of the Grand Army of the Republic. Promptly at 10 o'clock 18 bands and five drum corps, including the "Star" orchestra, symphony of the "Star" and as the first strains of the anthem reverberated through the streets the long thin line of greyed veterans swung into step. Every year witnesses a thinner line, and this was said to be the smallest number of marchers in fifty years of encampments.

CLEVELAND—Fred M. McClure, who confessed to stealing five automobiles, was taken to Toledo today to be arraigned on a charge of grand larceny, preferred by the Toledo police.

TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS.

In the "stern majesty of the law" as applied by the Simpson administration to the violators of speed ordinances and traffic rules regarding crossings may be found an answer to those who consider Lima motorists reckless and indifferent to the safety of others. The trouble, rapidly becoming a favorite topic of conversation among the mere pedestrians, is not with the motorists, but with the police department.

A law unenforced is worse than no law at all. It were better to repeal an ordinance than to leave it, unsupported, on the books, a cause for more disregard. Lima has plenty of regulations regarding traffic and speed, but few motorists observe them. Stand at a busy corner some afternoon or evening and count the passing cars. Note the number sounding a horn for the corner. Estimate the speed of the machine. Figure out the number giving the proper signs to the cars behind on making a turn. Ask a plainclothesman or a patrolman why the public "gets by with it". He will tell you that the traffic cops are responsible, not they. In other words, "we won't do anything for which we're not specifically paid".

With this as the attitude of the police, is it any wonder that the American public is losing its respect for the authority of law?

THE MAINE VOTE.

Maine has more than one claim to a niche in the hall of fame for states which have done something to attract attention. It is not the production of James G. Blaine, the long supreme political domination of the prolific Hale family nor even the fact that the state is both wet and dry, which gives the caribou wilderness an air of importance. It is the quadrennial vote which is interpreted as a political barometer by the sage observers of the trend of the times.

Maine votes before the rest of the states. She votes every two years, but in the "off-year" elections her voice is not accorded the same attention as in the presidential years. The campaign now on in the woods of the northeast closes September 11, and the entire nation will watch the result with peculiar interest. In nearly every case the saying is true that "as Maine goes, so goes the nation". Variations of this proverb are rare.

The G. O. P. is ordinarily in control of Maine. The state is normally Republican, but in 1912 Wilson received the six electoral votes by a plurality of 2,620. That's why the entire strength of the Penrose-Smoot-Barnes party in the United States is being poured into Maine today. The G. O. P. wants to carry that state for the psychic effect, for the prestige, for the encouragement to party workers in other states, and for the purpose of getting some basis for claiming national success. The Republicans must carry that state. Every available speaker, every available dollar, every available "fixer" is at it. Even Frank B. Willis has neglected his job for a week to speak in the Maine campaign—the party must be desperate. That shows the extent to which the G. O. P. is willing to go. The Democrats have had Champ Clark there for two week-end speeches, and Attorney General Gregory for one. The result will be worth watching. It may not be an absolute prophecy, but it will be prophetic.

Hughes has failed in his western trip, according to the tenor of the press of the nation. Republican papers, as well as Democratic sheets, express the sentiment that Hughes has been over-estimated, that he has brought up trifling issues and that he has failed to make the impression. No wonder. A candidate must stand for something, and unless Hughes digs up an issue it will appear that the Republicans are trying to win on the strength of the whisker vote. Both Charles wear face moss, you know.

At any rate, the G. O. P. will have a hard time making it appear that the strike is all Wilson's fault. But as the shark scare, the infantile paralysis epidemic, the hot spell and a few other calamities have come this summer, the Republicans might be able to lump them and get a few votes.

When Senators Warren, Wadsworth and others from the Republican side of the august chamber declared that the guardians of the United States have been and are being better treated than any soldiers ever mobilized, they were telling the truth, but at the same time cradling an issue that other leaders, less honest, were attempting to make.

The Republican party in 1912 won eight electoral votes; the Progressive party received 88 electoral votes. The Republican candidate for president secured 3,484,956 votes of the people; the Progressive candidate 4,119,507 such votes. Yet, on the Republican national executive committee there are 12 reactionaries and five progressives. The tail is sure wagging the dog in 1916.

One thing is certain about that strike. The man with a "Henry" can get what he wants for hauling passengers, and nobody is going to laugh at the machine either.

Too bad that Huerta didn't live to enjoy Henry Lane Wilson's defense of his seizure of authority in Mexico.

A Progressive doesn't have to be super-wise to understand with which party his policies will stand the better chance.

The general offensive of Field Marshal Karl Von Hughes on the Western front has resulted in no gains.

GOOD EVENING: Now if it would only stay this way, etc.

What Makes a Lady?

By Beatrice Fairfax

"A LADY is a woman who always remembers others and never forgets herself. This simple definition rather thoroughly covers the situation in regard to a woman who wants to deserve the title "lady." A lady is a gentlewoman, who lives up to the best traditions of her womanhood.

A woman who shirks her responsibilities, who lives the modern selfish society life, who spends her days "on pleasure bent" is not a lady at all, however charming her manner and elegant her appearance. She's just a beautiful parasite creature living off the world; and the little ship-girl who sighs, "Oh, I wish I was a lady like her" is not picking out a particularly good model.

I very much prefer the good old English word, "gentlewoman" to the title lady. It means so much more of simple nobility in our standards. "For Judy O'Grady and the Colonel's Lady are sisters under their skin," wrote Kipling—and there lies the basic truth of the whole matter. French heels and marcelled hair, with model gowns in between, may make up the semblance of what we call a lady and cover over nothing more than the skeleton of true womanhood.

A gentlewoman has some of that fine chivalry in her heart which instinctively she demands of a real gentleman. She is tender and kind to the old and loves with the instinctive mother love all little, young, helpless or weak things.

Some of her attributes. Cleanliness and daintiness are her very instincts. She may buy her suits in the cheapest shops, but her linens are spotless and buttons are where they should be.

They must not receive any visitors until all the swelling has gone. All children in the family who have not had the mumps should be kept away from school for three weeks after exposure to the disease.

Before the little patient is discharged from quarantine, however, he must be given a thorough bath and change of clothing.

The room in which the patient was kept should be thoroughly aired by opening the windows and doors and letting in sunlight. The bed linen should be boiled.

PAVIA.

Pavia is a city with so long and rich a past that to pause on your

TAXES

Must Always Be Paid

FOR THE OPERATION OF ANY SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT

It doesn't matter whether it is a city or a nation, the expenses must be met.

The money for paying bills is taken from the treasury, which is kept filled by taxation.

Taxes come from the entire public, not from the property-owner alone, and every citizen pays, directly or indirectly.

Money is not so plentiful that the average man cares to throw any of it away, nor is it probable that a sane person with the experience of a child will seek ways to increase his expenses without getting proportionate returns. Yet there are individuals who clamor for things from the city which will raise their taxes without bringing any kind of return.

The project which calls for the transformation of the Lima telephone system into a municipal plant is just such a goldbrick. Think what it would do for Lima: (1) make the system the toy of politicians instead of the ward of experts, (2) ruin one of the finest plants in the country, (3) destroy the present good service, (4) raise taxes for everybody, (5) make Lima the subject for an experiment never before tried, (6) threaten the financial solidity of the city, (7) in case of even slight mismanagement, create an annual deficit to grow each year (8) serve as the entering wedge in a movement which would discourage all private enterprise and turn investors away from the city.

Yet there are men who cry for this proposal, regardless of the effect on taxes, on telephone service, on the future of Lima's growth as an inviting location for the investment of capital in factories and shops.

travels and try to get her story in hand might well make you a permanent lodger in the old Lombard city. Back from the dim lost days of the Gauls and the early Romans, down through the birth of Christianity, through the time of Charlemagne, into the tangled intrigue of the Italian middle ages run the tale, to emerge finally trailing a robe of facts and figures, human and legendary, 20 centuries long.

It would be interesting to study it all, it would make one feel superior and add greatly to one's erudition. But on the whole it is better to walk about the streets and turn the glance of cheerful ignorance upon the thousand wonders, to scan the pages of history with the vague and emotional pleasure that comes when one turns the leaves of a tooled and illuminated volume written in a foreign tongue.

Pavia has not marched in the van of Italian industrial progress; she is not exactly behind the times, but she is thoroughly provincial. Which means that she is comfortable and amiable, and expansive of soul. She sits in the sunlight like an Italian peasant maiden who is good-humored and unaffected and willing to chat without the formality of an introduction.

Of course, Pavia is rich in museums and churches which are crowded and running over with treasures of art. That is only to say that she is Italian. All Italy is an art gallery, and if many of the greater masters have been sold or taken in war, a host of the works of the lesser remain that are not lacking in the divine touch. The old University is here too—the University that gave the city the name of Pavia the Learned, where one Christopher Columbus, not unknown in the annals of America, spent some time.

DANIEL URGES ALL BULL MOOSE TO VOTE FOR WILSON

President Declared to be Truer Progressive Than is Hughes.

THORNDIKE, Me., Aug. 30.—Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels declared Wilson a truer progressive candidate than Hughes, and urged the Bull Moose to support the president, in his speech here last night.

He predicted that those who figure that the progressives of 1912 all came from the republican party and would now return to it would be rudely surprised in November.

He said, in part:

"An examination of the progressive platform of 1912 and an examination of the record of Woodrow Wilson discloses the fact that though the progressive party did not win that election, more progressive legislation has been enacted than both the democratic and the progressive party demanded.

"The progressive platform adopted in Chicago in 1912 has been truly called 'a wonderful human document' and if in that year the democrats had not presented Woodrow Wilson a 'human document' incarnate, the advocates of the progressive platform would have won. The men who believed in the principles there enunciated—except those who are hypnotized by a personage who has deserted the crowd—rejoice in the fact that most of the policies demanded in that platform have become accomplishments, thanks to Woodrow Wilson.

"The platform adopted by the progressive party in 1912, read in the light of the performances of the Wilson administration, shows, as a distinguished leader of that party says, that Woodrow Wilson carried out more pledges of the progressive party than that party itself would likely have done had it been successful. The democratic party in 1912 did not promise a child labor law, it did not promise the federal bank federal employment bureau. It remained for the progressive party to be the pioneer party in sharply calling the attention of the people to these needed measures.

"But, after fulfilling his party's pledges of reform and constructive legislation, Woodrow Wilson, a progressive of progressives, called upon congress to put those four measures upon the statute books, not because another party had first suggested them, but because he believed they were right and were needed by the people.

"But not a few measures were promised by both the democratic and progressive parties. I will mention only a few. Let us take up the income tax law. An income tax was levied in Cleveland's administration, but the sudden change of opinion by a supreme court judge, it was declared unconstitutional. It required nearly 16 years to secure the ratification of the income tax amendment. For one reason or another, some so technical that only hairsplitting lawyers could understand them, nearly all standpoint republicans sought to prevent the ratification of the income tax amendment. It was the democratic party and the forward-looking republicans, most of whom left the party in 1912, who worked together to secure the income tax.

"They fought together then. They will be united in November in re-electing the only candidate for president who, when the income tax needed a supporter, found him in Woodrow Wilson. For workingmen's compensation laws, for eight-hour laws, for a children's bureau, for protection of the health of workers, for the parcels post and other reform legislation, the progressive party in 1912, joined hands with the democratic party, while the standpoint republican party, as on all real reform measures, were either silent or evasive or half-hearted. How could it be otherwise, for it had been in power 16 years and all these salutary measures democrats and progressives were demanding would have been laws if the republicans had favored them.

HOW MRS. BEAN MET THE CRISIS

Carried Safely Through Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Nashville, Tenn.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I had a tumor as large as a child's head. The doctor said it was three years coming and gave me medicine for it until I was called away from the city for some time. Of course I could not go to him then, so my sister-in-law told me that she thought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure it. It helped both the Change of Life and the tumor and when I got home I did not need the doctor. I took the Pinkham remedies until the tumor was gone, the doctor said, and I have not felt it since. I tell every one how I was cured. If this letter will help others you are welcome to use it."

—Mrs. E. H. BEAN, 525 Joseph Avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a pure remedy containing the extractive properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, meets the needs of woman's system at this critical period of her life. Try it.

BULL MOOSE HIRAM WINS GOLDEN STATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 30.—Control of the mass of republican voters in California today passed to Governor Hiram W. Johnson, leader of the progressives in the state. All but complete returns today showed that Johnson has won the republican nomination for United States senator by a good majority over Willis R. Booth, the "old guard" candidate. Latest tabulations showed the governor leading by about 17,000 votes, and his friends claim its plurality will be even larger when complete returns are in.

Left alone Ralph smoked in the freight, till far into the night, building altars of which his little wife was the capable as well as beautiful little mistress.

"So you are not going to wait to see your son's wife?" Mrs. Gordon had gone over to bid Neil good-by.

"I shall come back this way on my journey home. I have not seen my brother for several years and I can not prolong my stay indefinitely. I told Ralph not to hurry her return on my account, for if she is really using her time to good advantage, and her last letter indicates it, I do not want her hurried." Mrs. Gordon smiled tolerantly over her daughter-in-law's vagaries.

"I have not heard from Mother Morton since the letter I mentioned, but I know of no one who would be as apt to wake her up to her responsibilities as that dear old lady. I have been wishing I could bring them together for a long time."

"What a wonderful thing it is to be able to pass on experience. That is what this fine woman seems able to do; to pour in all that she has garnered for years. Ethel is a very fortunate girl to have her for a friend." Mrs. Gordon smiled into Neil's face.

"I always felt that Mother Morton could get her interested in her home if anyone could." Neil grasped Mrs. Gordon's hand in farewell. (To be continued.)

WILL SELL PENCILS TO AID FUNDS OF LOAN SCHOLARSHIP

School children may buy their pencils at their school house next Tuesday when they start to learn reading, writing and arithmetic. They will be helping their sister along, perhaps, or themselves someday, if they do that. Every one has to buy a pencil you know, so why not wait and buy one right at your school from a teacher who will be appointed to sell them by the educational department of the federated clubs.

This movement will be started for the purpose of raising the funds of the Loan scholarship fund, which is awarded each year by the federation to worthy and deserving girls who desire a higher education and have no financial means to get it. Certain requirements for the scholarship must be met in order to secure its support. Among some of the requirements, the girl must be a graduate of the Lima high school with good scholastic standing.

This is the second year of the Loan scholarship fund, and at present there is one girl in college on its support, and another girl who benefited by it, is working at Columbus, refunding her loan. So don't forget to tell the kiddies to buy their pencil at school.

ART COLLECTION LOOTED.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A great art collection somewhere in New York City has been looted of objects valued at nearly $50,000. The robbery took place July 30, and became known generally through a police circular warning pawnbrokers and dealers in antiques and art objects to be on the lookout for the stolen goods.

Amusements

THE FAUROT'S PICTURE.

"The House of the Golden Windows," a Lasky production for the Paramount program, starring Wallace Reid and Cleo Ridgely, in the photoplay now at the Faurot. It is a story of the oil fields of California and is preceded by an allegory, most artistically done, which leads up to the tale of the present-day life which follows. The good point of the Lasky school of photodrama are pleasingly in evidence; there is the usual choice of rich and realistic settings, there is atmosphere and there is good acting on the part of Mr. Reid, Miss Ridgely and their associates in the cast. The story contains a number of thrilling situations, but the plot is far from plausible. The great photographic beauties of the film, however, its numerous artistic and idyllic scenes and its undeniable pastoral charm serve to cover the improbabilities of the story and make it a most enjoyable feature. Burton Holmes' "Carlsbad to Moravia" and the Pathe News are interesting additions to the program. Last times tonight.

ORPHEUM—ONE DAY ONLY.

"The Natural Law," a gripping three-act drama of today, by Charles Sumner, will be the attraction at the Orpheum Saturday, Sept. 2, matinee and night. Mr. Sumner has selected his theme from a certain incident that came to his notice from the lives of persons prominent in social standing in a section of New York City. The story has to do principally with three characters, Dr. Ralph Webster, Ruth Stanley and Jack Bowling and consequently, has as its point of interest the irresistible triangle, two men and a woman.

Ruth is an artist of promising worth, who upon the death of her father finds herself in need of that strength of character and sound judgment possessed by Dr. Webster, an old friend of her family. They become engaged and the wedding is to take place in a few months, or as soon as Webster returns from a business trip in the west. During his absence Ruth becomes acquainted with Jack Bowling, the pride of his college and an athlete of consequence. Full of the vigor of youth, Ruth and Jack fall passionately in love. Struggle as she may to be true to her promise to Webster, the magnetic influence of the young athlete is so overpowering that her action of mind is smothered in an avalanche of passion. Webster returns to be confronted with a situation demanding all the employment of his will power in his desire for the complete happiness of Ruth. The United Producing company, who presents "The Natural Law," has provided a complete scenic equipment and an exceptionally strong cast of players, including Miss Edna Marshall, George Lill, Lawrence Williams, Hestie Mae, Will H. Strauss, Foster G. Manley, Mrs. Clarence Bennett and Mable Morton.

PRINT PAPER PANIC SPREADING RAPIDLY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The federal trade commission this afternoon issued an appeal to the News Print Manufacturers' association, composed of practically all news print paper manufacturers to come to the rescue immediately of the small newspaper publishers. Letters to members of the association, the commission said, indicated that a state of panic exists among publishers of small newspapers and that great numbers of them will be driven from business unless the association takes immediate steps to furnish paper for them at reduced rates. They are paying from 4 to 8 cents a pound for paper as against 2 to 3 cents on January 1.

Russians Capture Positions Close to Austrian Border

The second was directed against the Austro-Hungarian position at Tomos Pass, south of Kronstadt, and the third against Tolgyes Pass, west of Piatra.

German troops are being sent into Hungary to stiffen the Austro-Hungarian resistance and it is believed that Turkish troops will also be used against the Rumanians and Russians in the new theater of war. The German general staff, alarmed at the fresh turn of events, has assumed supreme command of the Austro-Hungarian operations against the Russo-Rumanian armies.

Rumania is placing mines in the Danube between the iron gate and Turnu-Severin, to block river communication between Austria and Bulgaria. This section of the Danube has become the scene of great activity within the past 48 hours. Austrian monitors are carrying out an intermittent bombardment of Turnu-Severin and the railway line which passes through that city to Bucharest.

Fighting between the allies and the Bulgars continues at many points in Greek Macedonia, but it is reported on good authority that the Bulgarians have ceased their advance at the urgent demands of Germany. In connection with this development, considerable significance is attached to today's conference in Berlin between the German chancellor, German press sees no reason to hope for, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, and for the continued neutrality of the Greek minister. Although the Greek government is evidently making eleventh hour efforts to prevent Greece from joining the allies.

Ten Thousand Buyers Flock to New York to Pick Stock.

Big Firms Keep Permanent Purchasing Offices in Metropolis.

By Frederic J. Haskin.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A question, which refers to skirts, is just now preying on the minds of about ten thousand buyers who have come to New York from all parts of the country to select the things that American women will wear this winter.

It is not the price they mean, either. There is no doubt about that. It is going up. But how about the hem of the skirt? Will it continue in its amazing rise toward the knee or descend once more toward the ankle? This is a most solemn problem to the buyers. Out of the hundreds of models offered in the wholesale stores just off Fifth avenue, each of these emporiums from the retail trade must choose five or six, or perhaps fifty or sixty models that will appeal to the women of Kokomo or Corsicana or Walla Walla or Yellville or Chicago or Boston, as the case may be.

For most of the really progressive clothing stores in the country are represented in New York at this time of the year. The retailer who is after fashion is not content to order from the samples of traveling men. He comes to New York in person or sends a representative, and tries to interpret the taste of his trade in terms of the Fifth Avenue offerings. In the case of the small firm, the buyer is usually the proprietor himself, who makes one or two trips a year to New York. Most of the big firms like Marshall Field of Chicago and Jordan-Matth of Boston, on the other hand, have permanent offices here, and are represented by anywhere from fifteen to fifty buyers all of the time. Some of these spend their days scouting among the innumerable wholesale firms, while others stay at headquarters and receive the throngs of salesmen who come with offerings. Each of these buyers who is permanently hunting for the thing that women of his or her particular town are going to want.

How it is identified is a mystery. In the show rooms of the big wholesale firms young women models, who are lightning-change artists, parade one design after another before the critical eyes of the buyers, who indicate with a quick gesture or nod when something comes along that will suit their particular trade. The variety of offerings in form and color, material and weight, is something bewildering. One firm may offer several hundred models. As one buyer put it, for a young man in New York to have five hundred skirts to choose from might seem interesting, but it isn't. It is a trying exercise in judgment, with a large element of luck thrown in.

Most of these buyers are not young men, however. A very large percentage of them are women, and this percentage is steadily growing. The difficult task of clothing American women is very largely in the hands of the women themselves, from the designers to the purchasers in the retail stores. Not only do the buying forces of the great city department stores include more women than men, but women are often the sole representative of important firms. Most business-like buyers, they are, too, swift in judgment and direct and straightforward in dealings.

Needless to say, these lady purchasers are the subject of much and solicitous attention on the part of the wholesalers. There is nothing like a buying power of forty or fifty thousand dollars to make a young woman popular in New York. Automobiles are placed at their service and they are showered with invitations. One wholesaler recently took two young women from a large western firm for a motor trip to Coney Island. On the return, his chauffeur collided with a street car, and the young skirt-specialists were spilled on Broadway. At last reports they were doing nicely in a hospital and holding up their orders while a large number of wholesalers are attentive with flowers and candy.

For the most part, however, this matter of buying ready-to-wear clothing is a very business-like proposition. There are no longer any seasons for the large firms, whose buyers are on the hunt all the time for the things they want. This year the problem has been an especially difficult one for a number of reasons. In the first place, the European war has made it impossible to get some materials and hard to get many others, while the dye problem has forced some colors out of existence. This situation was further complicated by the garment makers' strike, which stopped some fifty thousand needles just as the fall season was coming on, and caused many wholesalers great difficulty in filling their orders.

The country is prosperous, and the demand from all sections heavy, so that the buyer has found himself standing between a prosperous public demanding fashionable clothes and a somewhat demoralized wholesale trade that did not know exactly what or when it could deliver. Now that the strike is over, however, the business is going forward with a rush. The fact that many buyers who have gone to New York or Paris for their more exclusive offerings, now come to New York has added to the congestion. New York is more the fashion center of the world than ever before, and it is trying mightily to rise to the occasion.

Buyers admit that the retail price of women's clothing is sure to be a good deal higher this year than last. In many cases the prices will increase between ten and fifteen percent. This, they say, will not affect the retail trade in the least during such a prosperous year. One of the great American ambitions is to have the women well-dressed, and provided the style is there, the price is not a deterrent.

One season for the increased cost of suits is the greatly increased amount of cloth that goes into them this year. Not only has broadcloth advanced in price ten cents a yard, but the 1916 skirt with its abundant fullness requires a great deal more material than the tubular model of a short time ago. Some of the popular materials are now almost impossible to obtain. For example, the cloth known as Bolivia, which is being used in coats, is no longer offered by the factories, which are booked to capacity.

The great congress of buyers assembled here forms an interesting index to the varying tastes of American women. One of the most striking facts is that the towns farthest from the metropolis are often the most insistent upon having the very latest and most advanced styles. This is especially true of the Pacific coast towns. Even the dealers in the smaller cities send their representatives all the way across the continent to select the clothes that their women patrons will wear this fall.

"The women of Walla Walla want their dresses straight from Fifth Avenue," explained the representative of a firm in that far away town. On the other hand, buyers from some eastern cities within telephone call of New York buy only the most conservative models and the standard materials that are always in style.

Interest Wakes As Cycle Races Date Draws Near

As the time draws near for the motorcycle races at Lima, driving park on Labor day, interest of speed demons entered in the six events is kindled to a point near fever heat. Officials of the club holding the meet daily receive letters from entries in regard to opponents in the meet. Practically all new entries in the meet have inquired whether Charles Smith, the local rider, is to be a contestant in the six events on the program. There is little doubt but that he is considered one of the most dangerous contenders in the big field of riders that has signed to take part in the meet.

Much interest is also being displayed in the announcement that a silver loving cup will be awarded to the winner of the 25-mile race. In addition to the purse and cup that goes to the winner of this event, leaders in the twentieth, thirtieth and fortieth laps will be awarded prizes.

The track is daily being prepared for the meet and according to the caretaker will be in first class shape on the day of the races. Indications predict that speed records both national and international for the half-mile track will be smashed by the fast field of riders that has been signed.

Several city officials will be on hand the day of the race and will officially open the meeting by circling the track in the side car of a local motorcycle rider's machine. Just who has been selected is being kept a secret by members of the motorcycle club in charge of the race, but will be announced the day before the meet.

"Questions" Will Play In Lima On Next Sunday

The Marion "Questions" will be the attraction at the Murphy street park Sunday. Marion boasts of having some league players with them. Worth, their touted star catcher, has seen service with the Dayton Central leaguers all last season while Ferguson was with the Ft. Wayne club. Lattimore was with a Topeka club. Price and Weller are old heads at the business, having played in the old Ohio State league.

The "Questions" have been going at a fast clip this season, and are coming with the determination of downing the fast local Independents. They will use their strongest line-up in Sunday's contest with hopes of carrying out this determination.

Manager Holleran has also booked a game for Labor day. The fast Perfection Springs of Cleveland, will be here once more to try to take the scalps of the local boys. On Decoration day they were here and went down to defeat after a hard fought game, by the score of 5-3. Since leaving here they have established a record of winning nine straight games and fans can look for a stiff battle when they stalk up against the local nine who have won the last seven games played.

On September 10 and 17 the fast club from St. Marys will be seen at the North Side lot. A picked team from the industrial league will oppose the Independents on September 24, for the championship of the city. The Lima team, who are in line for the championship of northwest Ohio, will take on only the strongest clubs of the state from now on, that can be secured.

TWO GIANTS JOIN CUBS. CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Larry Doyle and Herbert Hunter, two of the Giants who figured in the trade for Heinie Zimmerman, arrived here today to join the Cubs.

Harry Pulliam, late president of the National league, once remarked: "Never take anything for granted in baseball." And Pulliam was right, as the standing of the clubs in both major league attest.

Welsh And White Sure To Scrap

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 30.—It will take more than a little thing like a nation-wide railroad strike to keep Charley White and his arch enemy Freddie Welsh from swapping wallops in a 20-round championship mill here on Labor day.

"Regardless of whether the strike is called the fight will go through as scheduled," said the promoters today. They shivered as they spoke, however, as a strike will mean the loss of many thousands of dollars to the gents who are putting up their money.

There was no letup today to the strenuous training ring of either men. Welsh worked with Battling Reddy, Wop Glynn, Jack Bratton and Charley Rose for sparring partners. White gave an exhibition before a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary in the ball room of the Hotel Antlers.

The advance sale of tickets reached the $20,000 mark today, according to the promoters.

FIGHT NOTES. CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—If it is agreeable to Battling Levinsky, Battling Nelson will referee the Brown-Levinsky battle here on Labor day. The former champion volunteered his services after a long squabble over the third man. Brown has agreed.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 30.—Tommy Burke beat Len Rowland in ten rounds here last night.

The Tigers, spurring as never before this season, are only three games behind the leaders, with the Browns anchored in third place with four games to the bad.

BUFFALO BILL IN PERSON WILL COME TO LIMA SEPT. 14

Accompanies His Famous
101 Ranch Show Now
Augmented.

The Buffalo Bill (Himself)—101 Ranch Show will give two performances in Lima, Thursday, September 14th, and already a great deal of preliminary interest has been aroused by the up-to-date and strenuous character of this season's exhibition. Two facts of especial interest to the public stand out in relief. The first is the fact that Col. Wm. F. Cody, famous wherever men read tales of romance, as "Buffalo Bill", is with the show in person and will be seen "in the saddle at every performance". The second is the new military spectacle, "Preparedness", presented, it is announced, in co-operation with the United States war department, and enlisting the services of a large number to soldiers from the regular army, who have been given a thorough for the purpose. Undoubtedly, the purpose of the government in loaning these "boys in khaki" for exhibition purposes is to arouse interest in the army and to create in the minds of the public a realization of the needs of an adequate defensive force to guard the republic against aggression after the close of the great European war. This, however, does not detract from the spectacular realism of the display, which is described as the most exhilarating military spectacle ever seen in the United States.

"Preparedness" is evidently an ambitious display of military effectiveness as well as an illustration of the need of it. Every branch of the service is represented. There is cavalry, infantry and artillery, and even the work of the Red Cross and the very essential commissary department is illustrated. There are reviews and marches, sham battles, cavalry charges and other inspiring events, and the entire display is described as being not only thrilling from the standpoint of realism, but also provocative of patriotic enthusiasm. Buffalo Bill, who was formerly chief of scouts in the United States army, will be seen in the great military display, and also in the strenuously-realistic reproductions of scenes from the life of the old west, in which scores of Indians, under the leadership of the famous old Sioux, Chief Flying Hawk, border scouts, cowboys and other frontier notables appear.

A combined military and frontier parade will take place at 10.30 show day, prior to the performances in the mammoth exhibition tents.

An interesting feature of the coming of the show to this city will be a U. S. army recruiting tent, in charge of an army officer, where enlistments will be received for service on the Mexican border.

Cured of indigestion After Twenty Years of Suffering.

"After suffering for over twenty years with indigestion and having some of the best doctors here tell me there was no cure for me, I think it only right to tell you for the sake of other sufferers as well as to your own satisfaction, that a twenty-five cent package of Chamberlain's Tablets not only relieved me but cured me within two months," writes J.
